UWM: A GOOD VALUE AND AN EVEN BETTER INVESTMENT

A lot of colleges bury the price tag toward the end of their glossy brochures. But we realize that one critical question—can I afford it?—might outweigh every other factor.

The good news: UWM is competitively priced, and you could qualify for special discount programs that bring your costs close to Wisconsin resident rates—and far below the price tags of private colleges. And there's never been a better time to join UWM: Tuition is frozen at 2012-13 rates for the next two academic years.

Minnesota residents are required to apply for the Wisconsin/Minnesota tuition reciprocity program. Learn more and apply at getreadyforcollege.org. Students from certain states may qualify for reduced nonresident tuition through the Midwest Student Exchange Program. Learn more at outofstate.uwm.edu.

CITY LIFE

#7 MOST EXCITING CITY IN AMERICA

Movoto Real Estate Blog

Don't know Milwaukee, Wisconsin?

Get ready to discover one of the best-kept secrets in the Midwest, a vibrant city of unique neighborhoods on the shores of beautiful Lake Michigan, just 90 minutes north of Chicago.

Sure, small college towns can be fun. But we think there's something especially exciting about an urban campus like UWM's, with all the opportunities of city life fueling your work and play. It's easy to build an eye-catching resume here through internships and networking opportunities with major employers based right in our backyard, including Miller-Coors, Harley-Davidson, Northwestern Mutual, Rockwell Automation, GE Healthcare, Johnson Controls, and more. And when your college-to-career path needs to take a detour for down time, there's no place like our hometown. Hear what UWM students have to say at outofstate.uwm.edu.

"Moving to Milwaukee was a great choice—I couldn't be happier here. You are going to feel like this is your home."

10 REASONS WHY WE LOVE MILWAUKEE

1. We're buzz-worthy. We're No. 7 on the top 10 list of most exciting cities in America, and the only Midwestern city to make the list, according to the real estate blog Movoto. Milwaukee also made Forbes' list of top 15 emerging cities.

2. Craving fresh air? Lake Michigan (just five minutes from campus!) is the perfect playground, whether you're looking to take up sailing or challenge friends to a game of sand volleyball at Bradford Beach. Or you can explore Milwaukee's 140-plus parks and 150-plus miles of trails.

3. We have four distinct and beautiful seasons— and make the most of those precious summer days with a nonstop schedule of festivals, free outdoor concerts and more. And when classes are unexpectedly canceled because of a major snow day, you'll discover that you're never too old for sledding, snow angels and snowball fights.

4. Love to shop? You'll see the usual national chains at malls around the metro, but you'll also find a bevy of boutiques featuring unique and handmade items. Milwaukee's East side and trendy Third Ward are a shopper's dream.

5. If you're used to East and West coast prices, you'll be pleasantly surprised by how far your money goes in the Midwest, whether it's your monthly rent or just a night out on the town.

6. We're just the right size: big enough to offer urban amenities but small enough that you can get to most places around the metro within 20 minutes (UPASS, which gives UWM students unlimited free rides on the county bus system, makes getting around even easier).

7. Brew City might be known for its beer and cheese, but there are plenty of other good eats, too. Foodies can get their fill at funky cafes, ethnic eateries, and restaurants that feature locally farmed foods.

8. We're a city of artists. With the world-class Milwaukee Art Museum, the annual Milwaukee Film Festival, and a thriving music scene, it's no wonder Milwaukee was named one of the best 12 art cities in the nation, according to ArtPlace.

9. Sports fans can intern, work and cheer for professional sports teams such as the Milwaukee Brewers, Milwaukee Bucks, Milwaukee Wave and Milwaukee Admirals. Or catch roller derby fever with the Brewcity Bruisers.

10. Milwaukee is a destination for young professionals. The young professionals network NEWaukee includes more than 40,000 Millennials.

CAMPUS LIFE

All work, no play? No way. Not at UWM.

Cheer on the UWM Panthers year-round from basketball to baseball. Work out in our free, fully equipped sports facility, the Klotsche Center & Pavilion. Play intramurals. Get out of town for spelunking or ski trips with UWM Outdoor Pursuits.

Contribute to UWM culture, creativity, tradition—or explore your own. Arts programming and current events are on the UWM calendar on a near-daily basis, at student-friendly rates. Big-name entertainment also included! Students have been invited to free performances by Aziz Ansari, Lupe Fiasco, Adam Savage and others.

You want more? You should.

Get comfortable in the unofficial capital of campus: the UWM Union. Under one roof you'll find an array of finer and faster dining; a theatre featuring eclectic, international cinema; an art gallery; multicultural student centers; and our official Panther-approved, sweatshop-free UWM Bookstore. Billiards and bowling, trivia tournaments and table tennis are in regular rotation at the UWM Rec Center.

You'll have several days to become familiar with your new home, neighbors, study spots and relaxation resources before the academic side of your life gets underway. Fall Welcome concludes with PANTHERFEST, our biggest event of the year.

"One thing I really liked about UWM from day one—it's a big school in a big city, but it doesn't feel that big. Everything is so convenient. From my first visit to campus, I always had personal contacts I could go to with questions."

HOME, SUITE HOME

LIVE AND LEARN AT UWM

If your vision of a residence hall is door after door of tiny rooms sharing a single bathroom—standard at many other schools—be prepared to be pleasantly surprised. At UWM, our suite-style accommodations are set up more like apartments, where you'll live with three to five other students.

But UWM's res halls are more than just a place to sleep and brush your teeth. They're the hub of student life, a place where lifelong friendships are formed and memories are made. To make the most of your freshman year, consider living in one of our Living Learning Communities, which are organized around certain majors and extracurricular interests. Members of an LLC live on the same floor, take at least one class together and participate in special events to enhance their learning outside the classroom. Learn more at outofstate.uwm.edu.

GET TO KNOW OUR COMMUNITIES

Visit outofstate.uwm.edu to learn more about our five residence halls, which are split between two convenient locations.
